

PFP Forum 2018

29 November 2018, Renaissance Hotel (Brussels)

14:30 – 17:00 followed by a cocktail

“Availability of raw materials in the context of current and future EU policies”

This will be the moment when the Common Agricultural Policy is being reviewed. Other policies impacting agricultural production and the processing of these commodities are under scrutiny or developing further. We should get the wider picture of the potential impacts of these changes for agricultural production, hence availability of agricultural raw materials, and how these implications can be overcome.
